Nice Mobile Device. Don't Forget Email!

Date Submitted: 12-21-2012 by  Art M

Hope you got a brand-new mobile device for the holidays. They're pretty amazing.

These days, it seems like everyone is wired to a mobile device, such as tablets and smartphones. They're so cool, it's almost easy to lose yourself in all those amazing features. And all of those devices come loaded with email clients.

Clients are those built-in applications that let you manage all your email accounts from one place. With email clients, notifications let you know each time you receive a message from any account you set up.

Once you start using email with your mobile devices, it's obvious how essential email is to the way we communicate. So when you unwrap your new Apple iPad® or Android™ tablet, think about setting up a custom address and standing out from the crowd.

We have Help articles covering a sleighful of mobile devices:

- Apple iPad
- Apple iPhone
- Auto-Setup for Apple devices
- Microsoft® Surface tablet
- Android devices
- Microsoft Windows® phone
- BlackBerry®
- Apple Mail

You can always call Customer Support if you have trouble with it. Who knows, maybe the team member who helps you has the same device!

And they become even more amazing once you set them up with a custom email address, such as your name@your domain name.com. You might even say email is the new business card. And it starts with a domain. We'll even get you started with a free email plan.
